School Report.

To the Citizens of Groton : In accordance with the requirements of law, we respectfully submit the following report of the condition of the public schools for the year ending March 1, 1889.

No. 1.

This school united for the year with No 4.

No. 2.

There was a fall term taught by Miss JENNIE C. ANDROSS. The school was very fortunate in securing the services of so efficient a teacher, and was a success. The parents showed their appreciation of her efforts by giving the board.

No. 4.

The summer term was taught by Miss ELLEN E. HARDY. Miss Hardy is well qualified to instruct and her pupils passed a good examination, but her discipline was not all that could be desired.

The fall term was in charge of Miss EDITH F. WHEET. Miss Wheet was faithful and thorough in her work, but she did not have the support, of some of the parents, that she should have had.

No. 7.

When visited by the committee this school was progressing well under the instruction of Miss LIZZIE A. BLODGETT, and we were pleased with the interest manifested by the children. Owing to the teacher's ill-health the school was but five weeks.

No. 8.

This school was taught by Miss SADIE S. HUCKINS, of North Acton, Mass. She was an experienced teacher, and most excellent progress was made. The irregular and non-attendance of pupils alone prevented this from being a number one school in every respect.

No. 9.

The spring term was taught by Miss LUCIE E. REED, a teacher of experience.

The fall term by Miss MABEL M. FOLLANSBEE showed faithful work by teachers and pupils, and as a result marked progress in the classes and a profitable year's work.

No. 10.

This school was in charge of Miss MABEL M. FOLLANSBEE, and although only her second term, too much praise cannot be given. The school was in every way a success.

Most of the schools have been doing effective work the past year, though in some cases the discipline has not been such as to meet our entire approval.

It is to be regretted that so many changes are made in teachers from term to term. With the same teacher through the year better work may be done and much time saved.

It is also economy to employ the best talent as far as possible, for a child has but few years at the best to fit himself for his life work and his instruction should be thorough and efficient. It is especially important that parents should insist upon the regular attendance of their children, and know what progress they are making. This is done not only by a careful inspection of their daily work; but in visiting the school from time to time. By doing this you will be able to judge more correctly of the work accomplished by teacher and scholars, and more pleasant relation will be established between teacher and parents, and both stimulated to greater efforts.

Respectfully submitted,

A. B. CROSBY,	}	School Board of Groton.
